THE GORING

FACT SHEET

For over one hundred years, The Goring family has operated this much-loved hotel making it unique as London's last remaining family-owned luxury hotel. With Buckingham Palace only a five minute walk from the hotel, The Goring is just a Royal wave from its famous neighbours - whilst Knightsbridge, Mayfair and Kensington are within easy reach. The only hotel to hold a Royal Warrant from Her Majesty The Queen and with just 69 luxurious suites and bedrooms, The Goring is affectionately known as a 'Baby Grand'.

EXQUISITE SUITES AND BEAUTIFUL BEDROOMS

The suites at The Goring provide something extra special, with Gainsborough silk-lined walls, separate sitting room and bedroom areas and an in-suite cocktail hour. The jewel in the crown is The Royal Suite – an incomparable two bedroom suite with exquisite hand-woven silks and bespoke furniture, as well as a number of royal artefacts and antiques to surprise and delight. Each bedroom at The Goring has been individually decorated by renowned British designers, featuring selected wallpapers, crisp Italian linen and lovingly crafted bespoke furniture. Refined elegance blends with subtle, state-of-the-art technology. The marble bathrooms feature luxury Asprey amenities and the finest Egyptian towels and bathrobes.

FAMILIES AT THE GORING

Families love The Goring and can choose to stay in connecting rooms or two-bedroom suites making sure that all members of the family are comfortable. The hotel offers an exclusive V.I. (Little) P.s programme to give young guests the warmest of welcomes. The hotel's exceptional staff have thought of everything, from baskets of baby essentials to activity packs to keep children entertained. For any budding cooks, Chef invites children to spend time in his kitchen. Decked out in aprons and hats, they get involved in baking cookies and cakes giving Mum & Dad some time out. Come evening, the bedtime story library contains a charming collection of children's books - perfect for snuggling up with the hotel's fluffy sheep toys for a good night's sleep. They will be in tip top shape to explore London's nearby sights next morning - the Natural History Museum, the Royal Parks and the London Eye are all within a short distance.

WINING AND DINING

Dining at The Goring is a real pleasure. Designed by Royal designer Linley, The Dining Room is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner. The menu of refined British food is excellent and attracts much interest on the London restaurant scene with its Michelin Star.

The Bar & Lounge are popular with guests and locals alike. Afternoon tea at The Goring is truly traditional and officially outstanding having won the coveted Top London Afternoon Tea Award from the UK Tea Guild. Come evening, The Bar & Lounge exudes a warm and lively atmosphere with an irresistible selection of drinks.

During the summer months, guests can enjoy dining on The Terrace overlooking the stunning Goring Gardens which is a stunning private urban garden, larger than Centre Court at Wimbledon, it is a corner of heaven during the warmer months.
